climate than Honolulu. Sickness was almost their course of life bring sickness upon themselves. But during the last ten years it is very evident that this salutary state of the public health has undergone a change for the worse, There is no use or wisdom in concealing the fact; it is wiser to state it frankly, and by discussion endeavor to ascertain the cause or causes of the change so apparent, if haply we may discover a remedy. Years ago, and in successive years, this journal warned our government and people of the gradual but sure approach of insalubrity of the climate of this city, from causes then mentioned; but the warnings were quite unheeded, and regarded as the groundless fears of a visionary. But now, when it is acknowledged that slow fevers, that have puzzled physicians to typify, have prevailed and increased every succeeding summer; that the ordinary simple disease of measles has here assumed an abnormal type; and that last but worst of all we have the dreaded PORT OF HONOLULU, H. I. typhoid fever here, with its long weeks of exhaustion, weak pulse, lethargy and drowsiness. not infrequently resulting in death ;-when these facts have become incontrovertible, -our people are beginning to look about and inquire what, if anything, can be done to restore the city to its former healthy condition. Of course, opinions are very diverse as to the causes underlying the present admitted tendency to disease in the city. The latest idea we have heard expressed was to the effect that the enterprise recently commenced of sprinkling the streets for the purpose of laying the dust was the cause of the prevailing sickness. To this the sufficient answer may be made that the sickness complained of commenced long before the water carts | rumpus in the world; when wars and rumers of were built, and moreover that the localities wars fill the political horizon; when famine and where the typhoid has appeared are not visited | pestilence walk abroad among the nations ;-it

Others again point to the great increase in late years of trees and shrubbery in the city, in many with ordinary care we might be, as a city, the localities almost entirely shutting out the sani- healthiest in the world. There are some precautary influences of the sun and wind. There is tions, which you, Mr. Editor, have often pointed undoubtedly much to be considered on this point; out, in the struggle for pure air, which even an but we apprehend that the causes that are being intelligent kanaka takes, as a good idea, and imsought for will be found in several directions, proves the health of the city by carrying out. which we will here mention, premising that we I am pleased to see and smell, in my walks are but repeating, in brief, some of our state- about town, an improvement in many parts of the ments in former issues of this journal, during the | city. But there are several places that need puripast six or eight years.

First. We consider that the greater part of is due to the want of any sewerage whatever in the city. Privy vaults and cess-pools are seldom or never cleaned out, but when filled and no terested public to speak out. longer available for use, are covered with a little earth and suffered to lie and fester, the gases generated by the tropical climate continuing to poison the air. We must, if we would live, find a remedy for this. It has been suggested that a grand system of sewage pipes leading to the barbor, should be authorized by a legislative appropriation, to carry off these deposits. But such a plan, properly carried out, would require a very large expenditure of money, and could only be seriously considered until after a preliminary survey and estimates had been made by a properly qualified engineer. We beg to suggest a plan that is quite simple, economical and easily carried into effect-that of substituting earth closets for the vaults now in general use. Let the existence of privy vaults be forbidden by law within certain limits of the city-and the law might be made to apply to some other towns in the Kingdom, which like this, are rapidly filling up with inhabitants-and the construction of earth closets be made compulsory on householders. At stated intervals and at suitable seasons let government prisoners with carts remove the accumulated deposits, to be disposed of as may be judged best-either outside the reef or to be economised as manure for lands. It may be remembered that in China and Japan, and of late years in Europe and America, this species of manure is highly valued by agriculturists for its fertilizing

Second. We are confident it will be found that the water supply of Honolulu, which comes through the government pipes, will on close examination be proved to be more or less impure and unfit for drinking purposes. When the main pipes were first laid down Nuuanu averremember being told he the then Superintendent Water Works that silt-boxes had been placed at intervals below the pipe for the purpose of collecting impurities in the water, and that these gate was placed at the open ends of the main pipe on the wharf, foot of Nuuanu street, at the termination of the pipe on Beretania street, and at other points, whereby occasionally all impurities could be removed by "flushing" the pipes. At present, as we are informed, nobody appears to know anything about the silt-boxes. and the operation of flushing the pipes is equally unknown, as there is no outlet remaining, all having been closed by the laying of new pipes. Under these circumstances it is reasonable to suppose that sediment and filth have accumulated in the pipes, and that the water is more or less unwholesome for drinking purposes.

Third. The abundance of the water supply for the city has led to a very free use of the article for household purposes, the refuse water from washing, bathing, &c., being allowed either to run on the surface in back yards or is collected in tanks and pits, where, combining with garbage it rots and festers. Particularly is this the case among the Chinese clothes washers, who are becoming quite numerous. In the absence of posal of this waste water, the continuance of tion of the Sugar to Honolulu and hence to San which above ground must be anything but con- Francisco. ducive to the public health. We are aware that it is the province of the Board of Health under the law, to have charge of the general oversight and care of the public health; but it is equally the duty of the public journalist to discuss the subject and point out evils that require to be remedied. ### Fire Department of San Francisco-

In a recent number of the Call we find an inter esting annual report of the Board of Fire Commissioners, by which we learn that the department consists of eleven fire engines, five horse hose reels (2 wheels) three horse hose reels (4 wheels, four book and ladder carriages and one fire boat, all fully equipped and in active service; also five steam fire engines and six hose reels held in reserve at the corporation yard, and kept in readiness for immediate service in case of emergency. The force of the Department (which of course is a paid one) consists of 294 members.

The losses by fire during the year amounted to $235,999.59. The Insurance Companies maintain at their own expense a special Fire Patrol. We learn that the amount of insurance paid was $133,-019 84. The largest fire was on the 24th of August, 1878, the Murphy, Grant & Co's building. The building contained a stock of dry goods in the city, valued at $2,000,000, and insured for $742,000, but owing to the effective work of the Department, under the able management of Assistant Chief Brady, who was in charge, and the valuable assistance rendered by Captain White, of the Fire Patrol, and his corps, who spread 306 rubber covers and 60 rolls of table oil cloth, that being the largest spread made by any patrol in the United States at any one fire, the total loss on building and contents was only $44,300.
